

100Fold / Radio Team Audio Book – Envision Team 2018 – Abingdon

Wouldn't it be fantastic if someone became a Christian, in part because you had produced an evangelistic Audio Book for them to listen to? Perhaps you have a heart and passion for getting good Christian books into the minds of people like training pastors or those seeking what Christianity is all about? If you are older and can read aloud well, your gift is needed!!

It is my desire to support people looking into the Christian faith, or support pastors in training that have problems reading. Wouldn't it be great to have Christian audio books freely available for them to listen to?

For some time, I have had the thought of training people to produce Christian audio books that may be useful to training pastors, particularly those with little education. I have been given the go ahead to plan and run a Summer Team (UFM) / Envision Team (GBM) in 2018. It is slated to be held in Abingdon, making use of the skills of the GBM radio team and using their studios.

The aim would be to collect together individuals who are interested, support them to build a recording and editing kit, give them training in simple recording and editing, then let them loose recording an audio book. The idea would be for you to finish the audio book after the team ends, and then continue producing more!! I can see that there are several skills involved here. If you have a heart for any one aspect, you would be very welcome.

To this end, I would like to get a team together. Each member of the team would:

- with support build a "field recording kit"
- be trained in using the kit to make audio recordings
- be led through building an editing environment on a laptop
- be trained in simple editing a recording
- ultimately produce an "audio article" which 100Fold will offer to gospel partners
- aim to produce an audio book which 100Fold will be able to offer gospel partners

Do any one of these describe you or someone you know?

- gifted in reading aloud with a rich mellow voice (you are essential!!!)
- able to follow instructions and build a "field recording kit"
- able to follow simple instructions to install an operating system and auditing software on an old laptop
- able to be trained in simple editing of audio files and use this to produce audio books
- have a couple (or more) of spare hours a week which they could give to the Lord for work that would make a real difference

We are looking for people with a real heart for this, who may have any one (or more) of several interests, to get involved. On the one hand there are people (unlike me!) who perhaps are gifted in reading aloud, who have good clear voices. This may be someone older who is put off by the following – please don't be put off! You are needed! Then there are people able to be guided through building simple mobile recording kits. Are you perhaps one of those who can follow the instructions in setting up laptops with editing software? Do you know someone who can pick up the simple editing skills we will be giving training in and use that for the Lord?

If this is on your heart you will need to:-

- have support from you Church
- with your Church raise the estimated £400 to cover kit costs and boarding for the event and
- have 2 weeks that you can give to coming together with a team for training

If any of these points have made you raise your eyebrows, then contact the UFM or GBM offices, or contact me NOW! Perhaps this describes someone you know. Give them this leaflet and pray for them. Ask them in 1 week what they think about this opportunity. Encourage them to contact me or the UFM or GBM office soon!
